DETAILED ACTION

Pertinent Art Cited

The following US Patent Applications reveal the current state of the art:

Allison et al. (6,304,210) teach an apparatus, method and computer program product for providing true geodetic coordinates of a target position (TGT) using an image database comprising: a portable personal computing device having means to accept input, and output data and commands; and, a processor configured to execute a process corresponding to said input, output data and commands, said process comprising (Column 14: Lines 43-52), accepting input of true geodetic coordinates of an own position (OP) (; accepting input of raw coordinates of a reference point (RP) (Column 12: Lines 28-30); and accepting input of true coordinates of RP from user, said true coordinates of RP being obtained from said image database (Column 11; Lines 26-30)

However, Allison does not teach at least the apparatus, method and computer program product for computing exact local magnetic declination variance between said raw coordinates of RP and said true geodetic coordinates of RP; and computing the true geodetic coordinates of TGT utilizing the exact local magnetic declination variance.

Donovan et al. (5,751,612) teach an apparatus, method and computer program product for providing true geodetic coordinates of a target position (TGT) using an image database comprising: a portable personal computing device having means to accept input, and output data and commands; and, a processor configured to execute a process corresponding to said input, output data and commands, said process comprising (FIG.1, ID 12), accepting input of true geodetic coordinates of an own position (OP) (Column 4: Lines 13-15); accepting input of raw coordinates of a reference point (RP); accepting input of true coordinates of RP from user, said true coordinates of RP being obtained from said image database (Column 4: Lines 5-12).

Art Unit: 2863

However Donovan does not teach the apparatus, method and computer program product for computing exact local magnetic declination variance between said raw coordinates of RP and said true geodetic coordinates of RP; accepting input of raw coordinates, inclination and range of said target position (TGT); computing the true geodetic coordinates of TGT utilizing the exact local magnetic declination variance; and outputting the true geodetic coordinates, inclination and range of the TGT.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-24 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 1, 9 and 17 is the inclusion of the limitation "computing exact local magnetic declination variance between said raw coordinates of RP and said true geodetic coordinates of RP; accepting input of raw coordinates, inclination and range of said target position (TGT); computing the true geodetic coordinates of TGT utilizing the exact local magnetic declination variance; and outputting the true geodetic coordinates, inclination and range of the TGT".

Claims 2-8, 10-16, and 18-24 are allowed due to their dependency on claims 1, 9, and 17.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
